HELP! WE'RE IN FOR IT!

The Smethport Miner uses a considerable amount of space this week in a Shylock Holmes deduction of how things are as they are, and we expect that it will be necessary to refer to the matter next week, as it is too late this week.—Eldred Eagle.

"Shylock Holmes," eh? Boy, page Sir Arthur Conan Doyle! Looks as if Professor-Editor McFall has been paying so much attention to music and so little to literature of late that he's committed a blunder similar to that of the correspondent, who, reporting a wedding, wrote:

"And the bridal party passed down the aisle to the soft, sweet strains of Mendel & Sons' Wedding March."

The McKean County Miner, the official newspaper of McKean county, leads in news, circulation and advertising.

Weed Picking Performance Ordered by Judge Bouton Produces Many Cripples

Heavy walking sticks were at a premium in Smethport Wednesday following a weedpicking bee put on at the golf grounds Tuesday under the supervision of Judge Bouton of the court of common pleas.

Since that event—which, judging from appearances, must have been a trying ordeal—Smethport's streets have been filled with limpers, who, if you stop to ask how it happened, augment their evident misery with complaints of pain in back, joints, limbs, neck and head. In fact the average Smethport golf club member has been looking like the change out of thirty cents fast dwindling to a quarter during the past two days.

It happened this way, according to one member, who declares that, despite many moons of sacrifice in behalf of the club, he has been drafted into every job requiring hard labor since the first club was swung on the grounds. Several members, good and true, including the relator, realizing that weeds were getting entirely too promiscuous on the ground, called a meeting of the club some two weeks or more ago at which a request was made for some twenty or more volunteers to engage in the work of "rootin' 'em out." Well, every member volunteered, but sad to relate, on the day and date appointed for the task, only one member—the relator—showed up. Realizing that he could not go it alone and that another few days would see the course covered with ox-eyed daisies, jimpsons and dandelions, the relator appealed to Judge Bouton, who forthwith issued a writ compelling every member to appear on the grounds Tuesday, September 5, for weed routing purposes, under penalty of his judicial displeasure. Not caring to become involved in a contempt of court proceeding, every member responded and bent his back to the task until everything that looked like a weed was chucked over the back fence. The relator also deposes and says that Judge Bouton offered a prize for the best weed picker in the bunch, but that as he engaged in the work himself, the decision, which has been reserved, will be appealed immediately upon its rendition. It also is alleged, affirmed and otherwise represented that each member engaged in the work claims the prize for himself and that appeal will be made, no matter who is favored by the decision.

Just as we go to press we learn that the prize consists of a bottle of liniment, and the allegation is made that Judge Bouton has used about one-half the contents on himself.

Merchants' Association Leader Tells Auditors How to Combat Mail-Order House Propaganda

With the arrival of the fall season Smethport and McKean county has received its inundation of catalogues from the big mail-order houses of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities, among the latter being Columbus, Ohio, which also is making a bid for mail-order trade.

Just what effect this year's inundation of catalogues will have on local trade, remains to be seen. It has been ascertained, however, that many purchasers who have "fallen" for the mail-order game, have learned a never-to-be-forgotten lesson, with the result that the big bargain (?) stores of the cities will have to depend upon a new crop of buyers to insure success in this vicinity.

It is conceded that the greatest allurement of the mail-order program consists of price quotations together with illustrations pretending to depict the article or articles named and priced. This method catches the unsophisticated and many of those who live in or are dependent upon communities without live local newspapers. But in those towns and cities where merchants constantly advise patrons of their stock in trade and quote prices of staples and luxuries, the mail-order catalogue is shown up in its true light with the result of trade remaining at home rather than going to foreign fields.

In many cities of this and other states the merchants have fairly routed the mail-order houses by means of carefully-prepared advertising from day to day or week to week, containing price quotations; and from the fact that the prices keep pace with the fluctuations of the markets, buyers are enabled to perceive that they are getting the very best at the very lowest rates and thus soon learn to scorn the catalogues and other trade-bidders of foreign concerns, however large.

In an address delivered before the Retail Merchants' association of Indiana, meeting at Indianapolis, recently, Frank M. Bynum, treasurer of the association, said: "The local merchant who combats price quotations with price quotations through the columns of his home newspaper need not fear the competition of any mail-order concern, large or small. Usually, one or two experiences with the mail-order concern is sufficient for the worldy wise buyer, for it is then he realizes that he has purchased inferior articles at prices approaching very near if not quite the same prices quoted by his local dealer, for dependable goods. And the difference between the local dealer and mail-order house is this: The local dealer, dependent upon local trade, must handle goods that give satisfaction; the mail-order house, dependent upon its ability to allure the unsophisticated, can put over anything on the buyer, with the knowledge that there is a new crop of the unsophisticated coming on every year." In closing, Mr. Bynum advised his auditors, all of whom were merchants, to fight the mail-order menace through the columns of the local newspapers, and to keep their advertisements as bright and as enticing as the news contained in the paper itself.

It is a fact that the advertisement containing price quotations arrests the eye and is read with the same degree of interest as the appealing news item. In fact it contains real news—the kind that strikes home, and its drawing power can be estimated only by the community's ability to buy.

Mayor Brasted Turns on City Electric Lights Next Wednesday Eve!

Chief Executive Will Accept Boro Plant in Behalf of Citizens; Red Letter Events to Feature Electrification of Town; Public Service Officials Congratulated.

Smethport will blaze with electric lights Wednesday evening.

Promptly at 8 o'clock p. m., His Honor Mayor Brasted, will accept the new electric plant in behalf of the people of Smethport, following which he will press the button releasing the current into all lamps on Main street and a large number on the side streets.

Preceding the mayor's address and formal acceptance of the electric plant, the Smethport band will render several musical numbers and continue with a well-selected program following the ceremony of acceptance.

Everybody is invited to the one biggest function of the year and preparations are being made for the entertainment of a record crowd.

News of the coming event gained currency Wednesday and evoked fulsome praise from all citizens concerning the excellent work performed by the borough manager, the mayor and the public service committee of council, all of whom have pulled together for the improvement since its inception. From Wednesday night on Smethport will be reckoned as one of the best lighted and most convenient cities from an electrical standpoint in Northwestern Pennsylvania.

All tops for the electric lumps arrived during the week and are being placed in position. While a number of service wires remain to be strung, the job is a short one, and completion o fthe plant entire will be effected within the next few days.

Council paid off $12,000 of the $16,000 street improvement contracts at its regular meeting last Monday evening and made provision to meet all future payments as they fall due. Beyond this the session was featureless, being confined to routin business. At the next meeting, to be held Monday night, the electric situation will be canvassed and arrangements made to clear the books of all indebtedness involved in the installation of the local electric light and power plant.

LOCAL FOOTBALL ELEVEN UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT BUBBLING WITH PROMISE

The Smethport football eleven for 1922 will take rank with that of any eleven in this vicinity.

Such is the encouraging word received from Coaches Livermore and Choate, who have given the almost one-half hundred candidates for positions on the team the several times over and found practically all to their liking.

The squad this year will be under the direct supervision of Coaches "Sam" Choate and Dr. A. R. Livermore, whose knowledge of the intracacies of the game requires no elaboration. So great is the interest on the part of the High school boys that some 12 to 15 candidates presented themselves for review before school opened, since which time 30 candidates, inclusive of nine regulars from last year, have enlisted. Several times during the past ten days the coaches have lined up the boys in Kane field, where, with a brand new "charger" and a tackling dummy to work on, they have displayed such rare ability to absorb instruction that the coaches have high hopes of the team.

New equipment and uniforms have been ordered for the squad, and the coaches announce the introduction of new and revolutionary ideas. They have adopted the Warner system of regulation, under which the best team work possible is assured. Knowledgeous of what is doing in Smethport, both Bradford and Kane High school elevens have asked for dates, and promise is given of one of the liveliest football seasons in this section of the state.

MERCHANTS FAIL TO AGREE ON WEELY CLOSING PLANS; GROCERIES GO IT ALONE

Through a misunderstanding concerning the Wednesday afternoon closing plan entered into early in the year, the groceries evidently have severed connection with the dry goods, hardware, clothing and gents furnishings stores and concluded to go it alone. According to the dry goods, hardware, clothing and furnishing managers the agreement, as they understood it, was made only for the months of July and August, while the grocers contend that it was made binding until September 27. Failure to agree resulted in the dry goods, clothing and furnishing stores remaining open Wednesday afternoon, while the groceries closed. It is generally understood, however, that all the stores of Smethport will close next Wednesday and Thursday, afternoons on account of the county Fair.

NEWS OF THE SECTION
and Exchange Clippings

Ridgway—The Retail Merchants association of this city has started a movement that may result in a modern lighting system for Main and Broad streets. The matter was discussed at some length at a meeting held in the County club, Friday evening.

Bradford—A meeting of the Mother's Assistant Fund was held in Bradford Thursday. Those who attended were Mrs. T. A. Morrison, of Smethport; Mrs. Belle Lauer of Port Allegany; Mrs. Emma Bovaird and Miss Margaret Martin of Bradford and Mrs. Fantine Burdick of Kane.

Harrisburg—Twenty-seven Jefferson county farmers have been arrested on charges of planting infected potatoes, in defiance of a law passed two years ago to prevent a spread of potato wart, and have been placed under bail. The "crime" is punishable by a fine of $5.

Port Allegany—The business men of Coudersport have challenged the business men of Port Allegany to two base ball games one to be played at each place. No player under 35 years of age will be allowed to take part in the game. Port has accepted the challenge, and the dates will be arranged in a few days, with the first game probably on next Friday. Two fed hot games of the most interesting baseball seen in recent years can be looked for.

Renovo—William C. Robinson, aged 61 years, a widely known railroad man, residing at Renovo, was found dead in bed in a Philadelphia hotel Thursday morning. He had succumbed to an attack of acute indigestion, following a brief illness the night before, when a physician was summoned.

Kane—The new State armory at Kane was dedicated with formal ceremonies Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. A dinner was served to 100 guests at the Kane Country club and a reception and dance was held in the armory.

Eldred—The pavement dance held here Thursday under the auspices of the Allegany Bridge club, was a great success. Fully 300 autos came to town, and each was well loaded with passengers. The Smethport Band came down and joined with the Eldred band and together, making a band of about 25 pieces, rendered a splendid program which added much to the entertainment. J. F. Tuohy, Esq., gave a short and snappy address of welcome, after which the grand march started, led by Burgess and Mrs. W. H. Carey, merging into a round of waltzes, old time dances, and fox trots, which lasted until midnight, when everybody was tired but happy, and voted the night a grand good time.

Coudersport—A six-foot rattler coiled in one's path is not pleasant to find, as Robert Lyman and Lewis P. Chestain can testify. Mr. Lyman and family were spending last week at Kettle Kabin, near Cross Fork, and Mr. Chestain was their guest. They had occasion to climb Mt. Bruno and at the head of VanBetts Run found a big and dangerous reptile directly in their path. They killed him and found that he measured fully six feet in length. The skin when removed measured 10 inches in the widest place. This is one of the largest rattlers ever killed in this section.

St. Marys—Dr. Andrew F. Forester, 46, a native of St. Marys, died in a Philadelphia hospital last Thursday following an operation. He was a native of St. Marys, a one-time resident of Coudersport and of late years a practicing physician of Kalamazoo, Mich. The funeral was held here Monday morning.

Harrisburg—One mayor, three sheriffs, seven justices, 12 chiefs of police, 13 policemen, 31 constables, three burgesses and one councilman were among the 12,093 persons arrested by the state police in 1921, according to reports. A wide classification of occupations were made. Fifteen were slated as gamblers and eleven as gypsies. Eight ministers and the same number of "gentlemen" also were arrested.

INMATES OF POORHOUSE RECEIVE $300 A DAY FROM BIG OIL STRIKE.

Titusville—From poorhouse to comfortable income within a year, is the experience of John Wildes, 60, of this city.

Wildes, a cripple and without means of support, was assigned to the poorhouse of Warren county a year ago. He was a member of a family, poor, but, industrious, and after a serious injury he was no longer able to work.

Years ago his family inherited a small piece of timber about the Allegheny river. The property was considered practically worthless. Then came the present oil boom here and the opening of the Garnahan-Gilmer field, which caused a sensation in the oil industry. The Wildes property is in the heart of the field and is known as "Wildes' acres."

A well was brought in on the Wildes property recently that started off with a production of 300 barrels a day. The royalty on this amounts to more than $300 a day. Wildes left the poorhouse and with other members of his family is living in comfort.

OLD TIME HOSPITALITY FEATURES BIG PICNIC.

The community picnic under the auspices of the Holy Name society of St. Gabriel's parish, Port Allegany, yesterday (Wednesday) proved one of the most delightful events of the season. The picnic was held in Moose park and those who attended from Smethport pronounce it a most gratifying success. The members of the Holy Name society welcomed every visitor and showed them what real oldtime hospitality looked like. One of the features of the picnic was a ball game between the Smethport and Port Allegany teams. In the evening a grand ball was held at Georgetson hall.

More Cream Money
More cream means more money. There's cream slipping away every day in your dairy. Thousands of scientific tests have proven beyond question that 95 per cent of all hand driven separators are turned below speed a great part of the time. Every member of the family turns the separator at a different speed. If the speed is allowed to slacken, even for a moment, your separator will lose a lot of cream.

Famous Suction-Feed
"Skims clean at any Speed"
SEPARATOR

The bowl draws in just enough milk to insure clean skimming. You can turn fast and get through quickly because the capacity increases with the speed. Your wife or daughter may turn slower—according to their strength. The Suction-feed will always skim clean and deliver smooth cream of even thickness—not thick today and thin tomorrow.
There are no discs to wash—only one piece in the bowl, simple as a napkin ring. The supply can is only knee-high. You can empty heavy pails and cans of milk without straining back or arms. Come in and see it for yourself.

THE GREAT UNKNOWN

When annoyed by summer heat, you scowl at the sun, uncomfortably conscious of its dictatorship over life on earth.

Up there on the sun, the hydrogen flames are so great, so giant, that some of them rise to a height of 500,000 miles.

The heat of these flames is about 7000 degrees centigrade, which is 70 times the amount of heat necessary to make water boil.

One of these flames is bad enough. You get an idea of the combined terrific heat traveling toward us when you stop to think that these giant flames are all over the sun's surface and that the sun's diameter is 866,000 miles, against the earth's diameter of 8,000 miles.

With powerful telescopes and spectroscope, scientists are uncovering knowledge about the sun—from the safe distance of 93,000,000 miles.

The human brain is getting somewhere when it can ferret out information at that stupendous distance.

But while one branch of scientists investigates the far-off, another branch finds equally marvelous things here on earth—so small that the human eye cannot see them.

At the Nela Park laboratories, Cleveland, Ohio, boscina bugs—so small that 100 of them in a straight line measures only one inch—are placed on a lantern slide. Magnified by miscroscopic lenses and projected on a movie screen, these boscina organisms are observed viciously to attack each other.

Other bugs, only a twenty-fifth of an inch long, are flashed on a movie screen and shown cuddling their young.

Another minute form of life is shown feeding itself with a sort of paddle-wheel under its eyebrows.

What science sees through its super-microscopes and telescopes today, seems wonderful. And it is. But it is crude and primitive to the discoveries that will be made by future scientists.

Nature is like a candy box with millions of layers. So far we have uncovered only the first layer. Other layers will be uncovered, each more wonderful than the one before.

Usually, when science discovers something new, it is regarded merely as an interesting laboratory experiment. Later it inevitably is put to practical use.

Thus each one of these discoveries affects man's ways of living. The future of human life is unguessable, but it certainly will be bizarre, utterly unlike the lives we live today.

Mentally, we are barbarians, slowly moving toward knowledge. Compared with our far-off descendants we are like oysters compared with best human brains of today, though vanity makes this hard to believe or admit.

"Show me a town's newspapers and I'll tell you what kind of town it is," said a traveling man to the writer some years ago, a statement which, when subject to proof, reveals that every town's spirit, progress and enterprise is reflected by the local press. For it is a fact that the real, live business men of a town invariably reveal their public spirit and progressive traits through the columns of the local newspaper.

An exchange devotes sufficient space to observe that "love is what keeps a man engaged to marry a girl after he has seen her eating corn on the cob." Yes; but what do you suppose she thinks of him during the same sort of an operation?

It is said that traveling has a broadening influence upon people, but when a traveler tries to beat a train to a crossing the influence is disfiguring.

WHAT 2 CENTS WILL DO

It is a well known fact that Uncle Sam will carry a letter from New York to San Francisco for two cents—but that is only half the story. The United States postoffice now carries letters to many foreign countries at the regular domestic rate. This country leads the world in the realm of cheap postage.

Announcement is made from Washington that Spain and Argentina recently have been added to our two-cent stamp zone. This is just one step in the extension of the low-letter rate. For two cents Uncle Sam will carry a letter to Shanghai, China, or to New Zealand. All parts of the British Empire can be reached for the same price, with the exception of Australia, India and Egypt.

Nearly all the countries of South America and Central America are now in the two-cent zone. So also are the islands in our vicinity in the Atlantic and Pacific.

No other country can ever come close to the postal record attained by the United States.

Most of us take the mail service for granted. We fail to appreciate how much of a blessing it is and how much service we get at slight cost. Who else would be willing to carry a letter to England or Spain for two cents and pay all the expenses of the trip?

PROBING THE BOSS.

A new kind of advice is being given applicants for jobs by their real friends. It is, "investigate your employer." From the beginning of employment employers have been "investigating" their applicants for jobs. Now both sides are doing it and doing it wisely.

Not all the bad reputations are on the employe side of the contract. For that reason it is as needful for the clean-minded young man and young woman seeking a position to ascertain in advance the sort of person for whom he or she is to work as it is necessary for the employer to know something of his employes.

Nothing is lost for either reputable employer and employe in a mutual inquiry as to who's who. No high-standing employer will resent investigation and every low-standing boss will deserve it.

BILL SAM'S DICTIONARY

By J. L. MARTIN

The debate at Cross Roads school house Friday night forever settled the question whether Lem Gardener's old work horse has real sense or just a high grade of instinct. Bill Dooley, who spoke on the side of the affirmative, proved by actual facts, and convinced all three of the judges that Lem's old horse has more horse sense than Lem has instinct.

INSTINCT: A peculiar natural sense found in all animals and in some men, which enables them to get by without having to go to the time and trouble of learning anything. Bill Sam's Dictionary, page 507.

CHURCH MEMBERS
And Persons Interested in the Church,
ATTENTION!

The Crosby Church is in need of funds. It must meet very pressing obligations by October 1st or suffer serious embarrassment. The church board is seeking help, and asks every church member and every person in sympathy with the Christian church movement for financial assistance.

The Crosby Church is a Community Church. It supplies the spiritual needs of Crosby and surrounding territory. Although under the jurisdiction of the Genesee Conference of the M. E. Church, the Crosby Church seeks to spread the Gospel without regard to denominational lines. In this respect it has proved successful. Due to the continued industrial depression, however, the Church finds itself in debt—a debt which must be paid by October 1. Therefore, we make this appeal to our membership and all friends of Christianity. We need your contributions. Will you help us? Kindly make answer at your earliest convenience, either by means of personal contributions or money or check by mail.

Please act at once. Don't let that which has proved itself a power for righteous perish.

FOR CONGRESS

ELISHA KENT KANE

WHY SOME STRIKE.

Eight-hour day, National Agreement, Shop Rules, Recognition of the Union, Sympathy are only ripples on the surface. Deep down, the unseen cause is the wage system itself, fundamentally wrong. B. M. Jewell spokesman for the striking shopcraft, declared that, to support his family properly, a man must earn over $2600 per year. He put it too strong; yet my own family of seven costs more. In 12 years of single manhood my wages averaged $800 per year and board; yet I saved up $4700, the foundation for my present moderate fortune. The claim has been made that even at the 1921 wage, bituminous miners did not average $600 per year. On the other hand, increased wages increased prices of products and the increased cost of living leaves us no better off. Any one except a fool should know that wages enough for one will not support seven. Such folly is the wage system based on equal pay for equal work.

When a father of five wants to be honest and can't pay his bills, or cannot afford the doctor for his sick wife he is ready to strike from sheer desperation. And his unmarried comrade who in one day at the same wage earns enough to keep him four, can afford to lay off and help the strike along. God bless the young men and women who undertake matrimony! The women who become mothers are the noblest of God's creation. Shall we continue to punish them with grinding toil, poverty, privation and distress, or is not the pain of childbirth and the anxious care over health and morals enough for their share? Employers should pay fair wages for the single; nation, state and township should aid mothers and children. If the supply of children stops, the nation perishes, and America becomes a wilderness.

I, the watchman, have sounded an alarm.

If you send me to Congress, I'll do all I can to influence the other congressmen toward remedying this evil; and as a congressman, I can reach the public much better. Give me a boost!

GOOD ROADS BOOSTERS SEEK BIG MEMBERSHIP TO BACK IMPROVEMENTS.

The Allegany River Good Roads Association was organized at Port Allegany last week, with the following officers: S. W. Smith, president; C. F. Bowler, secretary, both of Port Allegany; E. I. FAIR STARTS TUESDAY WITH ELEGANT EXHIBITS AND BEST ATTRACTIONS.

Management in Readiness for Record Crowds; School Kiddies Well Provided For Next Tuesday the McKean County Fair opens its gates to the public for the eighteenth season. The management have arranged some of the finest array of attractions ever offered by them. Among the numbers are the Flying Dordens, one of the biggest acts ever booked by the Association, and the Seror Trio, which is an exceptionally good act of its class. Due to an open date, and being booked near this part of the State, made it possible for the Fair to secure them.

The big feature of the week will be the races, consisting of trotting, pacing, and running. On Friday two dash running races will be given for the first time at the Fair.

Friday, the last day, will be the biggest event in the county for the boys and girls. This is School Day, and every boy or girl enrolled in the public schools of the county will be admitted free. See complete program in the Fair advertisement found elsewhere in this issue.

The Midway will be a big one. There will be nearly 100 different attractionse, which will consist of good, worth-while, clean shows, rides such as merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, and acroplane swings. With this will be about 500 feet of features which go with a Midway.

The Smethport band will furnish music during the week. One of the features will be singing by Mrs. Cather, which will surely please the crowd.

The Flying Dordens.

A big and very sensational flying and casting act. Gymnasts on the high bars, their performance is one of a daring character, executed with remarkable neatness. Their leaps and catches are calculated to the minutest fraction of a second, with a precision which enables one member of the troupe to carry his feats blindfolded and with his head enveloped in a sack. They do turns, twists and somersaults in a manner which keeps one guessing how it is done. One of the gentlemen, a most clever artist in "looping the loop," a most sensational act, being a long swing from a small center bar over the end frame, to be caught on the opposite side by the other male member of the company, makes one's hair stand on end. This act is performed in front of the grand stand every day of the Fair.

The Seror Trio.

Very few humorous acts are really good. The Seror Trio is the exception to the rule. Here we have three artists in two distinct acts. It will be a barrel of fun. They can't be described; you must see them.

The Farm Bureau.

The McKean County Farm Bureau will have headquarters on the grounds this year as they have in the past. The outstanding feature will be the result of the vigorous campaign in spraying. There will be other lines of work shown which will be of interest to all.

Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. the boys and girls of the county will compete in judging dairy cattle, horses and mutton sheep. Among the prizes offered are a silver cup, given by the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association, a purebred heifer calf, given by the County Home farm; a pig, donated as a second prize by E. W. Jones. Several other prizes will be given.

NEW YORK IN FIRST PLACE

American Metropolis Has Crowded Out London as the Largest City in the World.

New York has surpassed London in population, according to the New York city census committee, if the same radius of territory is included within the New York city limits as is calculated in the London figures. In a statement issued by Dr. Walter Laidlaw, executive secretary, figures show that within a radius of nineteen miles of the City hall there was on January 1, 1920, a population of 344,508 more persons than in the metropolitan police district of "Greater London," says the New York Herald.

Greater London, it is explained, includes not only London county, but an "outer ring" in which the metropolitan police have specified powers and duties.

The Greater London suburban area, irregular in outline, extends as far in some directions as nineteen miles from Charing Cross," says Dr. Laidlaw, "It seems proper, therefore, to include in comparing Greater London and New York suburban territory within nineteen miles of the City hall."

This radius reaches Tottenville, Staten Island; part of Westchester and Nassau counties, and the part of New Jersey that includes Newark, Jersey City and other large population centers immediately adjacent to New York.

The population of Greater London on June 19, 1921, was 7,476,168, while that of "Largest New York," including the outlying districts, on January 1, 1920, was 7,820,676. London increased in the thirty years between 1891 and 1920, 1,844,962 persons, while Largest New York increased, between 1900 and 1910, 1,870,548 persons.
